I was raised in Birmingham Liberal Synagogue and went regularly to synagogue from an early age, often twice a week. The first orthodox service I attended was at the age of 22, at the Simchat Torah when I started at Leo Baeck College. I had known only three prayerbooks: Dr Mattuck's black-covered Liberal Jewish Prayerbook, volumes I, II and III. Rabbi John Rayner had quite a different beginning, approaching Dr Mattuck's liturgy after a boyhood and youth in Berlin spent praying from a relatively more traditional prayerbook (the Einheitsgebetbuch). I think this paved the way to the great scholarship and feel for Jewish liturgy that helped him become the greatest progressive liturgymaker of our age.
