William Craft is born in GA. The birthdates of both William and Ellen are unknown as there were no birth records kept for slaves. Jan 1, 1826. Ellen Smith is born in Clinton, GA. Ellen and William have a slave wedding. Slaves were not allowed to legally marry so a secret marriage was performed in front of friends. William was allowed to move into the Collins' estate, which made the Collins' happy because they now owned William, too. Dec 21, 1848. William dodges their watchful eyes and Bostonians warn the slave catchers from the city before they are hurt. On November 7, the Reverend Theodore Parker performs a wedding ceremony for the Craft's. "Running a Thousand Miles for Freedom" is published. A novel written by the Craft's. Jan 1, 1861. Ellen and William Craft escaped slavery in the south by disguising the fair-skinned Ellen as a wealthy plantation owner and her husband as her valet. After 200 miles aboard a train owned by their master and a nail-biting boat ride, Ellen and William Craft made their way to Philadelphia to become free. Wikimedia CommonsMarried slaves Ellen and William Craft escaped rewrote their fate embarking on an ingenious escape plan to the North. Perhaps the most daring and ingenious escape from slavery was the brainchild of enslaved married couple, Ellen and William Craft, whose story is one of danger, intrigue, and cross-dressing.

On the morning of December 21, 1848, Ellen and William Craft escaped as slaves from a plantation in Macon, Georgia. Their plan was an original one. Ellen, light-skinned, disguised herself as a young gentleman slave owner. William, darker, was her "slave". Together the two were going to go from Macon to the Atlantic coast. From there they would travel, sometimes by boat and sometimes by train to the North. There's a lovely Afterword to "5,000 Miles To Freedom" that includes some of the interviewed descendants, as well as their photographs. It's good for kids today to know that though there isn't a single photo of the Crafts in this book, they were still real people. And nothing is more real than hearing about a person's kin living, breathing, and talking today. Source Description: (title page) Running a Thousand Miles for Freedom; or, the Escape of William and Ellen Craft from Slavery iv, 111 p., ill. London: William Tweedie, 337, Strand. 1860. Call number E441 .S58 1860 (James E. Shepard Memorial Library, North Carolina Central University). 5,000 Miles to Freedom. Ellen and William Craft's Flight from Slavery. Ellen and William Craft's Flight from Slavery. By Dennis Fradin and Judith Fradin. By Dennis Fradin and Judith Fradin. What would it take for slaves to escape from slavery in the Deep South, 1,000 miles from freedom and then on to England during the period of the Fugitive Slave Act? For most slaves the thought of escape was unimaginable. But fear did not stop Ellen and William Craft from chasing freedom. An inspiring and riveting story of two amazing people stopping at nothing to fight for freedom and racial equality, this thrilling true tale chronicles Ellen and William Craft's lives from their flight from slavery in Georgia to their rise to world-wide fame as heroes of the Abolitionist movement.
