

Management System (DBMS) is a software for storing and retrieving users' data while considering appropriate security measures. It consists of a group of programs which manipulate the database. The term "DBMS" includes the user of the database and other application programs. It provides an interface between the data and the software application. In this tutorial, you will learn more about-. Example of a DBMS. History of DBMS.