The Discover 4-H Clubs series guides new 4-H volunteer leaders through the process of starting a 4-H club or provides a guideline for seasoned volunteer leaders to try a new project area. Each guide outlines everything needed to organize a club and hold the first six club meetings related to a specific project area. Purpose. 4-H is about youth and adults working together as partners in designing and implementing club and individual plans for activities and events. Positive youth development is the primary goal of 4-H. The project area serves as the vehicle for members to learn and master project-specific skills while developing basic life skills. The project manual and other suggested materials are listed under each project. These materials should be given to youth when they select their project(s). Be selective in your choices because project manuals can be expensive. Project manuals are written in levels. 4-H projects and activities are listed by category. For example, "Forestry" is listed under the Environmental Education category. Your Extension 4-H agent or program associate can answer questions that will help members, parents, and leaders select 4-H projects and activities. Curricula with "CCS" in the number can be ordered from the Cooperative Curriculum System (<http://www.n4hccs.org>) or through the Mississippi 4-H Department annual order at a reduced cost. 4-H book covers given to you.
